SPRINGFIELD PROJECT

Youth Urban Farming Work–Study Program

This project supports youth work–study program at the Urban Farm on 7th Street in Springfield, supporting a paid, outdoor learning opportunity for young people in the Urban Core of Jacksonville.

Key elements include:

- stipends for youth farmers, supporting hands-on participation and skill-building
- urban farming education and activities for youth, helping young people learn sustainable agriculture practices and environmental stewardship
- outdoor, neighborhood-based experiences that connect youth to food, nature, and community wellness
